Review cadence: Reviewed at least annually and whenever data handling changes.

CampCost collects only the data needed to provide its budgeting service and retains it only as long as necessary. This policy describes what is stored, how long it is kept, and how users can have it deleted.

1. What we store

Data	Purpose	Source
Account (email, auth identity)	Login, account management	Supabase Auth
Plaid connection metadata + encrypted `access_token`	Sync bank transactions	Plaid (AES-256-GCM at rest)
Bank transactions (`transactions` table)	Trip budgeting, source of truth for spend	Plaid
Manual expenses, trips, budgets	User-entered budgeting data	User
Subscription/plan status	Billing entitlement	Stripe

We do not store bank credentials — authentication with the financial institution is handled entirely by Plaid.

2. Retention

- Active accounts: data is retained while the account is active and the user relies on it for budgeting history.
- Financial history is soft-deleted, not hard-deleted, during normal operation (e.g. a removed/flagged transaction sets `deleted_at`) so budgets stay auditable and correct. Soft-deleted rows are hidden everywhere via a global query filter.
- Disconnecting a bank detaches its transactions (`plaid_connection_id` set null) and retains the historical spend — it does not purge data (migration 008).

3. Deletion (user rights)

- Users may request access, correction, or deletion of their data by contacting privacy@campcost.net (also stated in the Privacy Policy).
- Full account deletion purges the user's stored transactions and connection records, and revokes/removes the associated Plaid item so no further data is pulled.
- Deletion requests are honored within 30 days.

4. Third-party data

- Plaid: on account deletion or bank disconnect, the corresponding Plaid item's access token is removed so CampCost no longer receives that user's financial data.
- Stripe: billing records are retained as required for financial/tax recordkeeping, then removed in line with Stripe's retention and applicable law.

5. Legal & compliance

- Retention and deletion practices are intended to comply with applicable data-privacy laws. Where law requires a minimum retention period (e.g. financial/tax records), that overrides deletion for the affected records only.

6. Review

This policy is reviewed at least annually and whenever CampCost's data handling, storage, or third-party integrations change. The review date and owner are recorded at the top of this document.
